Browning: American Gunmaker" in delivering information. I also believe that the picture of the rebuilt Browning Factory on page 32 is really the rebuilt shop of his father in Nauvoo Illinois. (I live 7 miles from Nauvoo the "brothers" weren't blacksmiths nor farriers). On page 83 while talking about the .380 with main variants of 1955 and 1971 Mr. Kirkland states: "This is essentially an update of the original John M. Browning design." Which one? What year? Covered by which patents? There is a big difference in guns designed by John M Browning and guns designed by the Browning company after his death. Mr. Kirkland should be clear, he isn't.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Nice book and PicturesBy Gary L.
